Recently renovated and impeccably maintained, this home blends modern comfort with natural beauty, with flexibility for full-time living or weekend escapes. You'll keep comfortable with central air and banish worry with a whole house generator. Walls of windows flood the home with natural light and frame the surrounding mountains in every season. There are hardwood floors throughout. The main level features a dramatic vaulted dining room with towering windows, a warm living room centered around a wood burning fireplace, a cozy den for movie night, and a half bath and laundry room. The custom eat-in kitchen with center island is designed for both everyday living and entertaining, complete with pantry, and has easy access to the expansive deck and screened porch--perfect for outdoor dining or relaxing in the fresh mountain air. The spacious two car garage is right off the kitchen. Upstairs, the spacious primary suite is a private sanctuary with its own large deck overlooking the views, a huge walk-in double closet, and a luxurious spa-like bath featuring a double vanity, soaking tub, steam shower and even a towel warmer. Two additional bedrooms, a full bath, and an open office provide comfortable accommodations and work-from-home flexibility. The large basement has a large workshop and utility room, recently used as a ceramic studio. It's accessible from the house and from its own side entrance. Upgrades include all new paint, insulation, roof, hot water heater, oven, dishwasher, water filter and electrical panel, ensuring peace of mind for years to come. Solar panels offset the electrical bills nicely, and the solar panel lease is paid off.
