A portion of the porch has been closed in and heated for use as an art studio, which works out perfectly with so much natural light. Enter from the back yard into the mud room where the washer and dryer is housed along with two closets. The living room is spacious with many windows. The free-standing woodstove is used all winter to keep the room warm and toasty. A large dining room offers the space for an extra large dining table or a added seating area. Second level has three bedrooms and one very nice full bath. The bedrooms are so inviting and drenched with natural light The yard has many flowering plants that will be on display shortly. The two storage sheds are in the rear with an area used to store wood. The Gravel driveway has an additional area created to provide parking for guests.
