Stylish, single-story living: This fully reinvented bungalow is convenient to both Woodstock and Kingston, and features large over-sized rooms and systems, all in a tight semi-open layout that takes full advantage of its over-sized 2+ acre wooded parcel. Grounded by hardwood or polished-concrete floors throughout and topped by dramatic cathedral ceilings in most rooms, the house features two main living spaces - a large living and dining space anchored at one end by a bluestone fireplace and at the other by a renovated kitchen; plus a separate family room with a wood-burning stove and sunny side foyer. The huge oversized primary bedroom features its own en suite spa-like bathroom with an open shower plus a soaking tub with its own picture window overlooking the wooded backyard. A separate work or den area adjoining the primary suite could provide additional sleeping space, or a home office or studio. An additional bedroom features its own en-suite renovated bathroom. Oversized windows take full advantage of the wooded surroundings. The house is set back generously from the road and includes a large detached garage, plus plenty of front-yard space to enhance your privacy with additional trees or other landscaping.
