Spring has sprung. All investors, contractors and buyers are welcome to view this property and its now time to take on this exciting project. The home is tucked away in the tiny hamlet of St. Remy among mature trees and solitude. It is a fixer-upper and will need extensive renovations. One side of the house will need updating and repair whilst the other side will need a complete rebuild, which when finished will function as an income-based two bed apartment rental. Live in one side as you customize the other. It is located close to Kingston's historic waterfront area and marina. A short ride to local shops, boutiques, restaurants and cultural events.
