Rare opportunity in the historic hamlet of Rhinecliff. This well-kept home, originally built in 1859, offers timeless charm along with everyday comfort, the house was updated over the years and is featuring three bedrooms, two full baths, parking space for two cars, and a large storage/workshop shed. The fully fenced, level backyard provides a wonderful space for relaxing, gardening, entertaining, or having pets. Living in Rhinecliff offers a unique combination of historic character, riverfront beauty, small-community living, and direct access to New York City. The area is known for its preserved Victorian, Colonial, and 19th-century architecture, creating a timeless Hudson Valley atmosphere. Nearby Rhinebeck offers boutique shopping, farm-to-table restaurants, cafes, arts, and cultural events, while residents also enjoy river walks, hiking trails, and boating access. The Rhinecliff–Kingston Amtrak Station is just three houses away with convenient sidewalk access, making travel to New York City an easy approximately 90-minute train ride. The station is so close that your car can stay in your driveway. Rhinecliff and Rhinebeck continue to be highly sought-after markets, especially among buyers seeking weekend retreats, second homes, or full-time relocation from the city. Strong demand and enduring appeal make this a rare opportunity to enjoy the perfect balance of history, tranquility, elegance, and accessibility. Please note that the Range and Refrigerator are brand new!
