Introducing Crescent House, an artful retreat tucked along one of Woodstock's most sought after roads, blending warmth, creativity, and a relaxed indoor-outdoor lifestyle. Moments from Cooper Lake, Mink Hollow, and some of the area's most scenic walking routes, the property feels peaceful and tucked away while remaining just minutes to Bearsville and the center of town. Behind a custom iron and wood gate crafted by a local artist, the property unfolds into a private setting with mature trees, established gardens, an apple tree, and thoughtfully designed outdoor spaces that feel both peaceful and deeply creative. Inside, soft curves repeat throughout the home, giving the interiors an organic, sculptural quality rarely found. Arched openings, rounded walls, custom ironwork, and a locally painted mural create a home that feels collected and personal rather than manufactured. The radiant heated sunroom with concrete floors and oversized glass doors is filled with natural light and opens beautifully to the surrounding landscape. Additional features include stainless steel appliances, a den or office, a large soaking tub in the main bath, mini splits, and a one-car garage with electric. With its soft curves, concrete floors, mature landscaping, and seamless connection to the outdoors, Crescent House carries an unmistakable California bungalow feel, reimagined through a distinctly Woodstock lens.
