Never before on the market! This 1965 classic, original owner Center Hall Colonial, set on a rare 1.6 wooded acres in the heart of Kingston, ideally situated midway between the vibrant Uptown Stockade District and Downtown waterfront amenities, is an untouched gem awaiting the perfect stewards to usher it into contemporary life. The spacious 2,259 square foot, 2-story home offers an eat-in kitchen, 2 full baths, 4 generous sized bedrooms, and original hardwood floors (up and down) and slate tiled entry hall. One of the highlights of the home is its spectacular sunroom (added in 1980), with cathedral ceilings, floor to ceiling windows, an easy service pass-through window from the kitchen, and sliding glass doors that open onto a large deck overlooking the private wooded setting. An exterior staircase leads from the deck to the lower level drive (suitable for ample parking), the attached 1-car garage, and a small patio area. A separate, finished basement recreation room, with access to the ground level patio, is anchored by a cozy wood burning fireplace - perfect for a work from home office and relaxing year-round. Also located on the lower level (below the sunroom) is an additional work/storage space that has great potential as a workshop, wine cellar, or gardeners area. Additional features include a mini-split in the kitchen, a whole house fan in the attic, and a 5,000 watt Generac generator (2023). A rare opportunity to enjoy a charming living space in a serene wooded setting, with a central Kingston location adjacent to the popular rail trail and within walking distance of Kingston's wide selection of shops, restaurants, and historic sites.
