A sweet bright ranch in a friendly neighborhood, only a skip and a jump from the center of Woodstock. Located on one of the largest lots in the area with several majestic oaks and lots of room to roam. There's also space for a sizeable garden. Inside you will find an open plan living and dining area with an adjacent kitchen. The previous garage was converted into a large living space. On the opposite side of the house is a hallway with three bedrooms, two of which are currently connected with a door between them. This home's new owners can chose one of two locations to put their own stackable washer dryer. The current owners used this as an investment property and had a very easy time finding good tenants. This is a well-priced home for personal use or as an investment property.
