A rare Byrdcliffe Colony offering, this 1911 Woodstock artist home sits just off Lower Byrdcliffe Road on a private half-acre of garden, lawn, patio, and woods. Rich with history and creative spirit, the original structure features the classic north-facing artist's window designed for painter's light, along with original beams and woodwork that speak to the home's early 20th-century craftsmanship. With 1,562 square feet, 3 bedrooms, and 2 baths, the home balances historic character with thoughtful modern comfort. A newer galley kitchen serves the home with ease, while the light-filled vaulted living room addition--with skylights overhead--creates an airy, inspiring space for gathering, reading, music, or quiet afternoons surrounded by nature. One bedroom is currently used as an office, ideal for writing, painting, or remote work. The upper-level primary suite offers a private retreat with en suite bath and its own balcony, while the generous screened porch invites warm-weather living, from morning coffee to summer dinners. Outside, the detached garage and carport add practical convenience. Well cared for, with a new forced-air heating system and new roof completed last year, this home offers rare Byrdcliffe provenance, modern updates, and close proximity to Woodstock's shops, restaurants, music, film, and galleries. A soulful, storied home in one of Woodstock's most beloved creative enclaves.
