Open House Cancelled Welcome to 248 Stoll Road. Set on 5.6 flat acres along one of Saugerties' most desirable country roads, this architect-designed property offers complete privacy, architectural character and an exceptional location. Designed by local architect Jess Walker, the home centers around a barrel-vaulted great room with an open-concept kitchen and living space. The living room features maple flooring, abundant natural light and a Rais wood stove, which anchors the space. French doors and generous glazing draw the natural setting indoors and lead to an outdoor area overlooking the expansive backyard and bluestone outcroppings. The home office with built-in maple desk and pocket door provides a private, dedicated workspace. Hot water baseboard heat keeps the house comfortable, while a stand-up attic and generous crawl space provide excellent storage. Outside, red cedar shake siding, white trim and a standing-seam metal roof give the home a restrained, timeless character. A covered entry and broad lawn complement the natural setting, with surrounding acreage offering room to garden, explore and enjoy the landscape. Offered for the first time, the home enjoys exceptional privacy, with no neighboring homes visible from the house. The property is minutes to Woodstock, Saugerties, Kingston and Rhinebeck and an easy drive to all the best hiking, biking, and nature Ulster County has to offer. 248 Stoll is a timeless property distinguished by its architecture, setting and location.
