Year Built:	1890

Own a beautifully renovated piece of Kingston's architectural history in this distinctive Victorian inspired 1890s brick three family, positioned just moments from the Rondout waterfront. Thoughtfully updated while preserving its original historic character, the property pairs timeless details, including oak floors, classic millwork, exposed brick and a gracious front porch with the modern comforts today's discerning buyer expects. Three separate one bedroom residences offer exceptional flexibility for a primary residence, weekend escape, multigenerational living, or income-producing investment. Each unit features its own HVAC, electric service, and water heater, while the garden-level apartment enjoys a private entrance and open concept design. With Wurts Bridge Views from your property, you're just outside the door to the best of Kingston with independent restaurants, galleries, boutiques, the Strand, waterfront, marinas, trails, and the vibrant creative energy that has made this historic city a destination for explorers seeking something special. This is an opportunity to own a true piece of Kingston history while creating your own Hudson Valley lifestyle and potentially offsetting the cost of ownership along the way.
