Tucked into the Hillside at Byrdcliffe, halfway up and just below the legendary White Pines of the 300 acre Byrdcliffe sanctuary, is a truly special Woodstock jewel. Hardwood floors flow throughout the easy one-level layout. The spacious living and dining areas fold seamlessly into a generous, bright kitchen, the natural heart of the home. The dining table sits adjacent to a large picture window overlooking the patio. Here all is framed by a mature hedge of green foliage providing both privacy and calm. Sliding doors from the kitchen open to a large screened porch -- perfect for dining, hosting guests, or simply losing an afternoon to a book while the woods do the talking. At the far end of the patio, opposite the porch, a bubbling hot tub awaits. To the rear of the house, on its uphill side, a door from the living room leads to a garden and fenced yard -- currently the happy domain for the owner's puppy. Down the hall from the open living area and the patio front entry are three good-sized bedrooms offering their own quiet privacy. The current owner has combined what was once a fourth bedroom into a generous primary suite. Every bedroom takes in views of the surrounding landscape. This is a home that can be moved into immediately -- and grow into over the years. There's plenty of room for expansion, for gardens, or for carving out a pool sanctuary of your own. An oversized detached two car garage adds even more possibility: a studio, an addition, or simply a great two-car garage. This location is both picturesque and natural. A 3D Walkthrough Tour is available in the digital Lookbook or by request.
