Maverick Spirit, Modern Ease. Built in 2017 and inspired by Frank Lloyd Wright's principles, this thoughtfully designed single-level home explores the relationship between architecture and nature. Set on a quiet country property with a stream tracing the land's lower edge, the house was designed to make everyday living feel effortless while keeping a constant connection to the outdoors. Broad picture windows bring the surrounding landscape inside, and nearly every room opens directly to the expansive rear yard. Inside, polished concrete floors run seamlessly throughout, paired with multi-zone radiant heat that provides an even, comfortable warmth in winter and a naturally cool surface underfoot in summer. The result is a home that feels both grounded and remarkably easy to live in, designed to be enjoyed fully in every season and stage of life. The generous primary suite includes a walk-in closet the size of an additional room, while the spacious bath features an oversized, fully accessible, barrier-free shower with a clean, spa-like feel. The home's thoughtful design continues in the oversized attached garage, which also features radiant flooring and offers ample room for parking, a workshop, a studio, or a hobby space. Its generous footprint also lets you reimagine part of the space as additional living area, subject to any required approvals. Outside, the architectural language continues in subtle but meaningful details. Rain chains guide water from the rooflines into French drains, directing it away from the house and toward the stream below. A mature perennial garden, lovingly cultivated by an owner with a lifelong passion for gardening, creates a colorful welcome at the front entry and returns with new life each season. At the lower edge of the property, the stream provides a quiet destination to simply pause and take in the surroundings. The sound of running water, birdsong, and the surrounding woods creates a sense of calm that is increasingly difficult to find. Thoughtfully built and beautifully integrated into its setting, this home is a place where architecture and landscape work together. Comfortable, accessible, and designed with uncommon attention to the details of daily life, it offers a peaceful, lasting connection to the natural world. A 3D Walkthrough Tour is available in the digital Lookbook or by request.
